K Lashes West in Arms Race

Accuses Powers
Of Building Up
Weapons Stock

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev accused the western powers today of "stepping up the arms race, preparing their armed forces for war against us, and building up huge stocks of weapons, including nuclear weapons."

Khrushchev, addressing graduates of military academies at a reception in the Kremlin, said "We must strengthen in every way the might of our armed forces" to prevent war.

The speech was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass.

Discussing the disarmament talks in Geneva, the Soviet leader said: "The course of these talks shows that the western powers do not want disarmament."

Khrushchev said Wednesday he believed that East-West talks have advanced toward a solution of the Berlin issue, but he warned that a speedy settlement is necessary to save the world from catastrophe.

The Soviet leader again called for the signing of a German peace treaty and demanded an end to what he termed the "dangerous provocations" of West Germany against East Germany.

Khrushchev made his remarks at a Kremlin reception for visiting Austrian Chancellor Alfons Gorbach. He made a similar statement on progress in Berlin negotiations earlier when he dropped in on a Fourth of July celebration at the U.S. Embassy.

At the Kremlin, the Communist chief mentioned the recent accord on Laos and the 1955 signing of the Austrian state treaty as examples of how determination and goodwill could regulate complicated international problems by peaceful means.

"We believe that in the nearest future there can and ought to be agreement on the question of a German peace settlement," Khrushchev said. "The interests of peace and security of peoples decisively demand this."

RED TAPE of six years and 55 years of waiting came to a tearful end for Mrs. U. G. Stockton, left, as she greeted her sister, Miss Teresa Hawryluk, of Warsaw, Poland, in Austin, Tex., Wednesday. The story began in 1907 in a port on the Baltic Sea. (UPI Telephoto)

New Slaughter In Oran Brings Curfew Order

ALGIERS (UPI) — Violent gunfire today shattered Algerian independence celebrations in the port city of Oran, once the stronghold of the terrorist European Secret Army Organization.

First reports, believed to be conservative, said seven or eight persons were killed and an undetermined number of others wounded. But Moslem nationalist sources put the number of dead at at least 30.

The reason for the shooting was not clear hours after the firing had ceased, but it apparently followed an exuberant overflow of Moslems into the European quarters of the city.

The Nationalist Army this afternoon clamped a curfew on Oran and ordered all citizens to remain indoors. Their action was taken in agreement with French authorities.

Joy in Algiers

In Algiers, where public demonstrations of joy at the granting of independence and the return of the provisional government built up into a wild frenzy that seemed to be getting out of hand, the government ordered an end to the demonstrations tonight.

On the political front, the forces of Premier Benyoucef Ben Khedda and those of dissident Vice Premier Mohammed Ben Bella vied for power. But responsible leaders expressed confidence the crisis could be ended without civil war or bloodshed.

There were these fast-breaking developments:

In the Moroccan capital of Rabat, troops of the Algerian National Liberation Army occupied the Algerian Embassy building in the name of Ben Bella. A spokesman denounced the provisional government in Algiers for no longer respecting the decisions of the Nationalist Parliament and branded Ben Khedda a "usurper."

Confers With Nasser

In Cairo, Ben Bella, who has broken more or less openly with the rest of the provisional government, conferred a second time with United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Ben Bella was reported planning to fly to Morocco Friday.

Here in Algiers, loyal units of the nationalist army marched in triumph through the streets to the cheers, tears and applause of thousands of Algerians.

ALN units in Morocco were reported to have challenged the authority of Ben Khedda and swung their support to Ben Bella.

The ALN parade began at 10 a.m. A long column of freshly-uniformed soldiers on foot and in trucks and jeeps was followed by dusty troops fresh from the interior.

The troops marched along the boulevards above the Algiers waterfront in sparkling sunshine. Exultant Algerians jammed streets, windows, doorways and rooftops to catch a glimpse of the troops. Thousands of Algerians from the Casbah and other Moslem quarters of the city were joined by Algerians who came in from the "bled," the backcountry, through the night.

JFK to Talk With Dillion On Tax Cut

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Kennedy prepared to return to the White House today for a conference with Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, presumably to discuss increasing demands for an immediate tax cut.

The Chief Executive planned to depart by helicopter from the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., where he spent Independence Day with his family.

The tax issue was expected to be among highlights of Kennedy's news conference, which will be carried on nationwide radio and television.

The news conference will begin at 4 p.m. EDT.

Kennedy and Dillon last conferred at the White House Monday. There was no explanation given for their talks, but speculation arose that it dealt at least in part with tax matters.

Kennedy has announced that he will ask Congress for an across the board reduction in personal and corporate income taxes effective next Jan. 1.

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Gladys Robinson, former wife of actor Edward G. Robinson Wednesday sold a painting to the Marlboro Gallery here for $42,000, it was reported.

Holiday Carnage Sets New Record

By United Press International

America's highway carnage set a record for a one-day Independence holiday, and the National Safety Council feared the final total would exceed all advance estimates.

A safety council spokesman had said, "we would be very surprised if the total exceeds the council's top estimate of 150. There's only one chance in a hundred that it will."

But after eclipsing the mark of 137 deaths for a 30-hour July 4th holiday set in 1956, the total was rapidly closing in on the 150 figure.

The council had estimated the toll might be as low as 110 if motorists showed caution.

It was the second straight year that the July 4th traffic toll erased the previous high mark. The 1961 figure of 509 deaths over a four-day holiday was the worst on record for an Independence Day and the worst summer holiday highway slaughter in history.

Over the Memorial Day holiday this year United Press International counted 113 deaths in the 30-hour period, also a record.

A United Press International tabulation at 6:30 a.m. EDT showed 144 persons dead in traffic accidents during the 30-hour holiday period, which ended at midnight, local time, Wednesday night.

The breakdown:
Traffic 144
Drownings 61
Boating 4
Planes 1
Miscellaneous 15
Total 225

California led the nation with 22 traffic deaths. New York had 14 and Texas 10. Minnesota and Michigan each had 9 fatalities, while Tennessee reported 8. North Dakota and Pennsylvania each had 7.

Police said at least 26 persons were killed, most of them victims of landslides on the southernmost island of Kyushu. Six others were missing and at least 24 serious injuries were reported.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to set off soon the second atomic blast in its program to discover peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

The AEC said Wednesday that the nuclear excavation experiment—known as Project Sand—would take place "on or after July 6" at its Nevada test site.

HONOLULU (UPI)—The United States will make its third attempt to explode a rocket-borne nuclear device 200 miles over Johnston Island tonight—despite reports that a mysterious ship may be operating in the test ban area.

The Coast Guard announced Wednesday that the unidentified vessel, which falsely acknowledged Coast Guard identification, was seen inside the 530-mile danger area early last Friday.

Joint Task Force 8 announced that everything was "Go" at Johnston Island for the megaton shot between 11 p.m. HST today and 2:30 a.m. HST Friday. (2 a.m. to 5:30 a.m. PDT Friday).

NEWS in BRIEF

LONDON (UPI) — West European newspapers today generally hailed President Kennedy's call for a "declaration of interdependence" between the United States and a united Europe.

There was no official reaction to Kennedy's Independence Day address in Philadelphia. But French officials unofficially expressed approval. British newspapers generally applauded Kennedy's call.

TOKYO (UPI) — The heaviest rains of the year lashed Central and Southern Japan today, causing floods and death-dealing landslides for the third consecutive day.

Police said at least 26 persons were killed, most of them victims of landslides on the southernmost island of Kyushu. Six others were missing and at least 24 serious injuries were reported.

General Strike Stops Business For Brazilians

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — A 24-hour general strike in support of President Joao Goulart paralyzed business and public transportation today in Rio de Janeiro.

Goulart has not given his approval to the strike, called by the National Confederation of Industrial Workers which has more than four million members.

The strike was ordered Wednesday after Goulart's second nominee for premier, Dr. Auro Soares de Moura Andrade, resigned when Goulart declined to accept his choices for a cabinet.

Police Hunt Killer of Pretty Blonde Girl

CORONA DEL MAR, Calif. (UPI) —Police today hunted the killer of a pretty 11-year-old blonde girl kidnaped a few blocks from the scene of an unsolved 1961 abduction, and sexually molested before her nude body was dumped into the ocean.

The unclothed body of Dorothy Gale Brown was found floating near the ocean floor here Wednesday by a skin-diver. The discovery climaxed an all-day search by more than 100 police officers.

Torrance, Calif., Police Chief Percy Bennett said an autopsy showed the blue-eyed sixth-grader drowned, and revealed she had been sexually attacked before her death.

"It definitely appears to be kidnapping and murder," Bennett said.

The police chief said there were no concrete suspects in the slaying, but likened the case to the disappearance of 11-year-old Karen Lynn Tompkins in the same area last August.

Try to Recoup Losses Under Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said today the Kennedy Administration will try to "recoup" for the government any proper losses sustained under an Eisenhower administration cotton program.

Freeman made the statement before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee which resumed its inquiry into the Billie Sol Estes case. The Texas financier is under federal indictment for fraud.

The Secretary said the FBI has spent $236,200 and used the services of 452 special agents while investigating the tangled financial arrangements of the Texas farm tycoon.

The question of the operation of a cotton disposal program used by the Eisenhower administration in 1959 and 1960 was first raised by the General Accounting Office (GAO) in a report to Congress earlier this week.

The GAO said the operation involved a possible "conflict of interest" concerning the disposal of more than $400 million worth of government cotton. There was no evidence linking that program directly with Estes.

Freeman said he is consulting with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and that his department "will act to the best of our ability" to recoup for the government whatever losses have been sustained by these transactions under cotton programs operating in 1959 and 1960.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Savings & Loan holding company shares paced a late rise in stock prices on moderate volume today, handing the popular averages their sixth consecutive gain.

Most of the leading S&L shares spurred between 2 and 5 points in the last half hour of trading. Brokers had little in the way of explanation for the strength in the group other than to cite a forecast of a vast expansion of the mortgage market in the next decade by a leading banker.

Chemicals paced the blue chips with Kodak and Du Pont up better than a point. Oils, steels and autos were narrow in the Dow Jones industrial average but among the miscellaneous pivots gains of 1 or better went to Owens-Illinois, General Foods, General Electric and Woolworth.

Growth stocks also came to life late in the day after lagging earlier. Beckman, Minneapolis-Honeywell, Xerox and Polaroid, among others, were up from 2 to 4 points.

Gain for Play on City Links

Strong play in June paced the Palm Springs Golf Course to a fiscal 1961-2 player gain of 1,600 over the previous year, Charles Kasper, acting city manager, announced today.

A total of 39,089 golfers played on the 6,700-yard city facility during the fiscal year just ended, providing a total revenue of $206,940.85 for the course. In 1960-1, 37,489 players used the course, with total revenues of $173,605.

A total of 2,412 golfers paced over the 6,700-yard city course in June, a strong gain of 1,181 over the June, 1961 total. The June golf flurry pushed the player total for the 1961-2 fiscal year to 39,089, up from 37,489 in the previous year.

Revenues jumped $33,335 in 1961-2 over the preceding year, for a total of $206,940.85. In June, revenues were $8,443.20, up a brisk $4,882.69 from the $3,560.51 June total for the preceding year.

Total course costs were $234,000, with actual operating costs of $161,000, Kasper reported. Other costs included a $62,500 lease payment, and a $10,500 tax payment. The gains reflect a profit on the operating costs, the city official emphasized.

Buckling of Doctors in Canada Seen

REGINA, Sask., (UPI)—Saskatchewan's striking doctors accused of "flouting their Hippocratic Oath" — showed signs today of buckling under a mounting tide of criticism lashed on them.

Evidence of confusion within the ranks of the doctors emerged to the fore on Wednesday night when a protest march on the legislative buildings here, which had been scheduled for today or Friday, was postponed until Monday "at the earliest."

Many of the physicians who shut down their offices four days ago in defiance of the province's new socialized medicine law apparently were ready to give up the struggle.

Reports that "at least 30" of Saskatchewan's 900 doctors had signed up to practice under the medical care law dismayed the "Save Our Doctors" committee, the organization which had scheduled the march in protest of the medicare plan.

Bert McKay, the executive president of the committee, told a mass meeting of delegates on Wednesday night that "we have lost the battle to a measure. In view of the fact that we have lost 30 doctors we will have to redouble our efforts," he said.

Ike Against Goldwater, For Liberals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has sided with Republican liberals against Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., over the creation of a new GOP policy-advising council.

Eisenhower Wednesday came out four-square behind the step. In a letter to GOP National Chairman William E. Miller, Eisenhower said the National Republican Citizens Committee would promote the progressive programs "which are the core of Republicanism."

He said the committee was "crucial to the Republican party's resurgence."

The committee and a group known as the All Republican Conference were formed at a GOP meeting at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm last Saturday.

The purpose of the committee is to organize independent and Democratic voters and to act as a research and advisory council. The 100-member conference will serve as a leadership group for Republicans in and out of Congress.

Goldwater, also in a letter to Miller, denounced the idea of the citizens' group, arguing that the Republican National Committee was the proper body for such activities.

Without mentioning any names, Goldwater, a leader of the party's conservative wing, criticized some of the leaders of the group for contributing to the "divisive tactics" that lost the 1960 presidential election for the GOP.

Private Rites For Mrs. Felts Set on Friday

Private funeral services will be conducted Friday for Dorothy Alin Felts, 72, who died Tuesday in Desert Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

A native of Arkansas, she had been a resident of California for 70 years and of Palm Springs for the past three and one-half years, making her home at 122 Caravan, Sahara Trailer Park.

Mrs. Felts is survived by her husband, Gordon P. Felts of Palm Springs, and one son, Gordon O'Gara of the Bahama Islands.

Variances Denied for Houses in Araby Tract

The Palm Springs City Planning Commission has denied variance applications for two houses in the Araby tract, and tabled an application for a gasoline station at Tahquitz-McCallum Way and Sunrise Way.

Denied were applications by William Howlett for two houses and small subdivision in the Araby tract.

Tabled for study was the application by McCallum Investments, Inc., for a conditional use permit for a gasoline station at the southwest corner of Tahquitz-McCallum Way and Sunrise Way. The commission indicated it would await progress on the current city-Indian studies on Section 14 long-range planning, as a guideline for the filling station application.

Insufficient Data
The planners ruled that Howlett's application for zero setback on Bismaga Road in the Araby Tract, and a one-foot, nine-inch setback on Araby Road would place the planned houses too close to property across the street from the Howlett sites. It denied an application for small subdivisions, ruling that insufficient data was presented on boulder control.

Height variances above 15 feet for the residential structures was granted, to permit use of the steeply-sloping sites. A commission spokesman explained that the variance for hillside land is provided in city ordinances.

Co-op Site
The planners approved by a 5-1 vote the application by Feybor, Inc., for a change of zone from guest ranch to R-2, limited multiple family district, for a cooperative apartment site south of San Jose Road. The 14.5-acre site will have 26 per cent coverage with 104 units, with two and three bedrooms, developer Roy Fey explained.

The cooperative site is bounded by Camino Largo on the east, Sierra Madre on the west, and Avenida Granada on the south.

None Are Responsible For Soblen

LONDON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and Israel today disclaimed responsibility for runaway Soviet spy Dr. Robert Soblen during his recovery here from a suicide attempt.

A spokesman for the American Embassy said the British government was responsible for "when he moves and whether he moves" from the hospital. The British Home Office said the 62-year-old spy was still in transit and under the jurisdiction of the United States.

An Israeli Embassy spokesman said the Soblen case was now a matter of concern for either the United States or Britain.

His condition continues to improve but he will not be discharged today, the hospital reported.

Famed Rex Bell Dies in Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Nevada's Lt. Gov. Rex Bell, onetime western movie idol and husband of former "It" girl Clara Bow, died of a heart attack Wednesday night shortly after greeting supporters of his gubernatorial bid at a Fourth of July picnic.

Only hours before, the colorful, 58-year-old campaigner who brought his flamboyant flair for western attire into his everyday life, had spoken at a Republican Independence Day rally to boost his candidacy for governor.

As he would have wanted it, and in the tradition of the cowboys he portrayed so many times on the screen, he died with his boots on.

The friendly, hand-shaking politician was a familiar sight in most every Nevada city—always attired in colorful western garb, a white ten gallon hat and hand-tooled leather boots. And he headed numerous parades with his familiar white horse.

Bell's death threw the 1962 GOP gubernatorial election hopes into turmoil. Republicans had high hopes that Bell could wrest the state house from incumbent Democrat Gov. Grant Sawyer.

The silver-haired politician collapsed at the home of Miss Katie Jenkins shortly before dinner.

Survivors include his widow and two sons, Rex Anthony, 27, and George, 24.

Miss Dabbs Is a Bride

WHITE SATIN was fashioned into the lovely bridal gown which Miss Joanne Edith Dabbs wore when she was married to Edgar James Williamson. (Conway Photo)

Young Pair Honeymoon In Catalina

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Kite of Palm Desert journeyed recently to Santa Ana to attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Joanne Edith Dabbs, to Edgar James Williamson.

The bride is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William C. Holmes of Costa Mesa, and a graduate of Palm Springs High School; her husband, an alumnus of 29 Palms High, is the son of Guthrie Williamson of Idyllwild and Mrs. Howard Webb of Sacramento.

Their nuptials took place at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Fernside Wedding Chapel, with the Rev. Charles Simon reading the rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of gleaming white satin touched at the widely scooped neckline with Belgian lace. Her veil of English silk illusion was shoulder length, floating from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms; her flowers were white roses centered with a single large orchid.

Attendants in Blue
Three attendants in ice-blue satin preceded her to the altar. Her sister, Mrs. Duncan Reynolds of Costa Mesa, served as matron of honor; her bridesmaids were Miss Judy Grier of Palm Springs and Miss Judy Moon of Temple City. The trio complemented their frocks with matching headpieces of blue net accented with wreaths of tiny blue flowers, and carried Colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations.

The bride's brother-in-law, Duncan Reynolds, stood with the benedict as his best man; her brother, Tony Dabbs, seated the guests with the assistance of Philip Gohres.

During the nuptials, the bride's uncle, Dick Kite of Palm Springs, sang several numbers.

After the wedding and reception in the chapel, the just-weds left for a honeymoon on Catalina Island, returning to make their home in Costa Mesa.

Sneakers are listed as necessary clothing in most camp brochures, and mothers should select this basic item for small fry carefully, with emphasis on quality and good fit.

What makes a "quality" sneaker? Good construction, along with good fabrics and designs that promote foot health.

Look for the sturdy cotton duck, denim, or chambray uppers. Check stitching. When nylon and dacron thread is used, you know seams will be strong and firm. Consider the inside of the shoe as well as its outside appearance. A rigid wedge in the heel helps keep body weight on the outside of the normal foot and relieves foot and leg muscle strain. Longer hours of comfortable wear are possible.

Try On Carefully
Mothers should see that children try on sneakers for good fit. These casual shoes come in different widths. The natural outline of the foot at the toe area should be considered in a comfortable, well-designed toe silhouette.

In addition to the regular tennis-type canvas shoe, there are other models with uppers in cotton duck lined with another firm fabric, such as drill. A lined counter at the back of the shoe saves socks from excessive rubbing and wear. Some of these shoes have toes reinforced with a rubber covering.

Into Washing Machine
Most canvas shoes will go into the washing machine without harm, but check directions for cleaning, to be sure. It is advised, however, that they not be placed in a dryer; let the shoes dry naturally.

It is wise for youngsters to have two pairs of sneakers. Then they can practice the healthy habit of changing to the second pair on alternate days — just as they should alternate shoes of leather.

Footwear experts remind mothers that feet continue growing during summer — sometimes with what seems to be alarming speed — and shoe sizes should be checked about mid-summer. Actually, it is a good idea to have one pair of sneakers a half size larger for camp later in the season.

Face Powder Is Oldest Cosmetic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Face powder is the oldest cosmetic, beauty historians report.
Back in Cleopatra's time, powdered chalk was used for whitening the face. In 1860, females labored at home, making their powder of flour, starch, arsenic salts and lead.

A new 88-inch cyclotron is now operating at the Berkeley campus of the University of California; scientists say it will permit new nuclear explorations.

Couple Plan Tour Abroad

Dr. and Mrs. Grover Freese will leave early this month for an extended tour of Europe. Originally, the Freeses were scheduled to travel by freighter, but a delay in sailing dates changed their plans.

Their itinerary includes Copenhagen and other Denmark cities, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Rome and the rest of Italy, the French Riviera, Paris, and England.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen hosted a bon voyage party for the travelers, who have also been honored at a series of other dinner and cocktail fetes before their departure.

In the Good Old Summertime

There MUST Be a Way . . .

Help!

Do any of you women know the secret of removing blood stains from youngsters' washable — or even boilable — clothing? We've had two or three requests lately for an answer to the problem, and quite frankly, we don't have it. Do you?

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vann of 391 Stevens Road flew off (literally) this week for Honolulu to spend a month at the Hilton Hawaii Village and renew the many friendships they made during the years they had a beauty salon there. Young Charles Vann Jr. will manage their local business while they are gone.

Whe-e-e! This modern age! Pat (Mrs. Robert) Higgins of Rancho Mirage has as her houseguest her sister from Melbourne, Australia. But here's the twist! Because of the international date-line, clocks and calendars showed that the visitor arrived in San Francisco BEFORE she left Melbourne. Nice traveling if you can figure it.

Mrs. Ray Wilmoth has received a letter from Mrs. Howard Jay, ensconced for the summer at Del Rio Trailer Park in Bell, Calif. (The Jays bring their trailer to Palm Springs during the season.) Mrs. Jay writes that her husband is recovering nicely from a recent and quite serious heart attack.

MISS BARBARA BELL, 20, of 810 Spencer Drive, has won the silver wings of a jet-age stewardess for American Airlines, and has been assigned to flight duty out of New York City. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bell, the new stewardess is a 1959 graduate of Dorsey High School in Los Angeles, and she later attended Pasadena City College. She is also a graduate of American's Stewardess College in Fort Worth, Texas.

Back again in their Desert Hot Springs home are Mr. and Mrs. Nick Burmesch, who are still enthusiastic about their first visit to Yosemite.

Two other Desert Hot Springs couples, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bertram and the Lee Alberts, are deep in plans for a three-week motor tour of the Northwest. First major stop on their itinerary will be Portland and a visit to the Bertrams' grandson, Neil, a senior at Reed College; then on to Glacier National Park, Crater Lake, Klamath Falls, and so home again.

Also from Desert Hot Springs comes word of other travelers — Mrs. Ted Fox, who flew East to visit her sister, Reva Greenfarb, in Patterson, N. J., and then went on to see friends in Detroit; and the senior Jerry Grubaugh, who have been in Los Angeles. Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Grubaugh celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary at a family dinner party hosted by their son, Robert, in his Anaheim home.

A note from Luise and Belmont Sanchez, postmarked Catskill, N.Y., reads, "On our way to Canada on the boat . . . having lots of fun." The Sanchezes will be back in Palm Springs about the first of September.

From Palm City comes word that Neva Herndon and Helen Dadds will leave shortly for an extended motor trip East. En route, they will swing through Texas, go on to Virginia and Washington, D. C., travel through the New England states, and then go to Canada. Then they will dip down into Wisconsin for a visit with Mrs. Herndon's brother, Hale Darnold, of Racine.

All in One

You'll have one less pot to clean when you cook a vegetable with lamb chops. Brown 4 1-inch thick, shoulder lamb chop on both sides in 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine. Add 4 medium-sized carrots, sliced, 1 medium-sized green pepper, sliced, ½ teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper, and ½ cup of water. Cover and cook over low heat 45 minutes or until meat is tender.

Smith Tells Display Plan

Dr. C. E. Smith reports he and his staff are taking down, rearranging and reconstructing displays and exhibits of the Desert Museum this summer.

All field trips, lectures and other presentations will be resumed again in the fall of the year when a new room dedicated to the Cahuilla Indians will be opened.

Working on the Indian exhibits and records is a graduate student from UCLA, Lowell Bean. Dr. Smith said Bean is consulting with the Cahuilla for information from local members of the tribe. He has also been doing extensive research with the Morongo Reservation in Banning, the Torres of the Indian region and Los Coyotes near San Jacinto, all members of the Cahuilla Tribe.

Miss Janet Wullner, assistant director since 1958 and Lt. Allan Blackburn, on leave from the air force, are working with Dr. Jones and Curator Bean.

'Big Government' Is Not Needed

The chief officer of a great American oil company which operates throughout the Free World recently spoke of the achievements and the problems of the oil industry. In the course of his talk he said this:

"A chief concern . . . occurs when we are not able to communicate our sense of public responsibility to the public and to the representatives of governments. This can lead to problems of relationships between government and business, and of business communications to the public.

"These problems are unusually difficult in many foreign countries where the knowledge of and belief in the private free enterprise system is quite limited. Even here at home such knowledge and belief is less than satisfactory.

"There is a trend of the times in the direction of more governmental control, interference, and participation in the conduct of business—and this seems to be particularly true of the oil business."

There are certain areas in which we must have big government, as, to cite the outstanding example, our $50 billion a year national defense programs. But this should not produce an unreasoned and instinctive feeling that big government is needed or is desirable in all the areas of life.

That is the kind of feeling whose end can only be a welfare state, brought about by the organized efforts of the few and made possible by the lethargy of the many.

To go back to the oil industry, everyone has the right to criticize it or to praise it. But no one can deny that it has provided us with an abundance of products we all want at the most reasonable prices known in the world, and that it is a buttress of the economy and of the national security.

That goes for our allies in the cold war as well as ourselves. And this has been done by free taxpaying enterprise—not by the dictates of government, implemented by the whims of bureaucrats.

If ever we forget this fact, which applies to all enterprise, we're finished as a free nation.

Other Editors

(Southold, N.Y., Traveler-Watchman)

"An advertisement . . . sounds a local alarm about the latest leftist attack on capitalism in this country. The plan, now before the U.S. Senate after passing the House to use the withholding principle to collect taxes on interest and dividends paid by banks is another step in a calculated campaign . . . Children, widows and the elderly retired with savings are all capitalists and all will be forced to recover the taxes deducted in advance, since the vast majority of these groups either pay no taxes or a rate under the 20 per cent to be deducted . . . It seems a shame that with so many truly staggering problems needing attention our government must bring forth laws that penalize the thrifty, the widowed and the old."

(Bisbee, Ariz., Brewery Gulch Gazette)

"Now that President Kennedy has had such great success in controlling prices in the steel industry, there is no reason to believe he won't use the same tactics again, especially when he can make political hay . . . The President no doubt had what he considered to be the best interest of the country at heart, but what he did was wrong. It was not right for him to wield such crushing power. He has opened the lid to Pandora's box. The frightening things that will crawl out will accelerate our drift to the left, to the swamps of socialism, to the frustrations of a controlled economy and to the despondency of the most crushing depression this country has ever known."

(South San Gabriel, Calif., Independent)

"I wonder what's the matter with an economy where a businessman has to borrow money to pay income taxes."

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Rostow Paper---2

WASHINGTON—Unilateral disarmament, or disarmament-by-example, is the heart of a plan by chairman Rostow, of the State Department Planning Council.

Why has the administration slowed up the development and production of the mighty, manned missile bomber, the B-70? There are technical and financial difficulties, to be sure, but the reason under the Rostow Plan is that Russia will interpret a slow-down on this B-70 as a voluntary example of partial "disarmament" and will follow suit.

Why has the administration planted the idea with friendly writers that we are preparing only for a "war against weapons," not a war against people? Why have we let it out that in the event of hostilities we would bomb military targets only, and would spare Russian cities? The answer is the same. We hope that the Kremlin will get the message and will follow suit.

Encouraged to Think

The following quotation is from a broadcast interview with Richard Fryklund, author of "One Hundred Million Lives," which he calls an administration-inspired book. The author said over the air waves:

"Now if people from the Russian embassy are watching this program, it would make some of our Defense officials very happy because they want, through every possible, diplomatic and public, to encourage the Russians to think through this problem."

Why do we have such an inconsistent policy in Southeast Asia? In South Vietnam, our troops are engaged in combat training missions against the Red invaders. But we do not attack North Vietnam, where these invasions are mounted. Our troops stand defensively on the Thailand side of the Mekong River. But instead of sending troops to Laos, where another invasion was recently in progress, we agreed to a Troika plan for a neutralist Laos. We have resumed aid to Laos at the rate of three million dollars a month. Well, why? The answer is the same under the Rostow plan.

Guerilla Warfare

Let us hear Dr. Rostow speak for his own plan. In a June 28,

1961, speech at the U.S. Army Special Warfare School, Fort Bragg, North Carolina, attended by guerrilla warfare trainees from Vietnam and 18 other nations, Dr. Rostow, then a White House adviser, said these things:

" . . . we have, indeed, begun to take the problem of guerrilla warfare seriously . . . This will not be a victory of the United States over the Soviet Union. It will not be a victory of capitalism over socialism . . . If Americans do not seek victory in the usual sense, what do we seek? . . . The U.S. has the primary responsibility for deterring the use of nuclear weapons (and) overt aggression with conventional forces . . . The sending of men and arms across international boundaries and the direction of guerrilla war from outside a sovereign nation is aggression." (Something, by inference, which the USA must never commit against "sovereign nations" like Communist North Vietnam, Red Cuba or a neutralist Laos.)

In this address Dr. Rostow was performing a partial, voluntary "disarmament" of the USA. He ruled out use of nuclear weapons. He ruled out the strategy of attacking Red nations. He was, in effect, inviting the Communists to follow suit, and to some extent they have done so. They have returned several American military personnel who were taken prisoner in Vietnam. They have agreed to accept an American-aided neutralist Laos. They have not crossed the borders of Thailand.

All this is a good bargain at a small price for the Communists. They are safe from our mightiest weapons and from any counter-invasion by us. But is the Rostow plan good for the USA? Manifestly, it is a very poor bargain for the USA. We are letting the enemy choose the weapons, the battlefields, the strategies. In Laos we are even paying him good money for doing so. Although choosing "disarmament" and "peace," we are discarding a "victory" policy and are accepting defeat.

Remember When . . .

July 5, 1952

Homer Varner, Fourth District supervisor, repeated his request to the State Division of Highways for a bridge at Araby Point. He called attention to the approaching summer cloud burst and flash flood season.

Joe Leonard was awarded the contract for moving 12 giant trees from the Indian bathhouse to permit final steps on the widening of Indian Avenue.

Assistant City Attorney Jerry Bunker notified city council that the franchise for cable television here had expired and if video was to come to Palm Springs they would have to pass a new one.

July 5, 1942

Chief of Police Lyle Sanard reported that the July 4th holiday was without incident here. Because of the war all fireworks were banned. The town was full of soldiers from the surrounding bases but not many outside visitors.

Sid Sanard, son of Police Chief and Mrs. Lyle Sanard was listed as the first draftee to register in the latest call and his mother, a draft board clerk, registered him.

Rollin Dunlap was appointed Palm Springs agent for the Greyhound company. He succeeds Mrs. Mackue Etchason. The bus depot was located at the Indian Avenue end of The Plaza.

July 5, 1932

Reports indicated that Independence Day passed quietly in Palm Springs with few people in town and no fireworks. Most of the city's stores and other business places were closed for the summer.

Will Rogers famed entertainment star, was in the San Geronimo Pass district buying fodder for his stable in Hollywood.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

The Old West is changing
Shorn of its appeals,
For where is the romance
In shushed wagon wheels?

That was a disturbing story in the Desert Sun the other night. I mean the one by Bob Abbey who usually concentrates on sports but did a 10-page standing broad jump from the back page to page one with his yarn about our mayor, Frank Bogert, waiting to greet the Last Wagon West.

IT WAS an interesting tale, how the City Hall Kid had his chaps, his jangling - jangling spurs, his six-guns, his 10-litre hat, neatly hanging on pegs in his office, awaiting word of the arrival of the last covered wagon at the east stockade.

He would give them a typical Old West welcome as befitting hardy pioneers who scorned streamliners, smelly gas - powered station wagons and even jets, to cross the continent to the promised land.

THAT STORY conjured up an appealing picture, Wagon Train West! I dug into my old record albums and pulled out "Wagon Wheels" for background music as I read it. I even put on "Tumbling Tumble Weeds" as a prologue as I drew up a pleasing mental picture of Hizzoner deftly stepping into his chaps and boots and clearing ten feet from the city hall steps to the back of Old Paint without once touching the blacktop in the parking lot. And he'd go sloppily-clop to welcome the pioneers.

THEN CAME the fly in the ointment. Make that, the dog in the manger, it's more in keeping.

Abbey wrote that the Last Wagon was rubber-tired! That blew up the mental picture worse than a low-flying airplane starts a flutter in the TV Westerns. The imagined sound of iron tires grinding against rocks or crunching through sand vanished. Rubber tires on covered wagons? As silent as the stars deep in the heart of

I TURNED OFF the record with its cloddy-clop, the grinding tires and the yells of the teamsters. They were probably yelling because Hoffa pulled a deal to gyp them out of their fringe benefits. The picture of Indians swooping down playing darts with the canvas wagons as targets, faded.

Instead, I saw the Indians hanging around the depot awaiting the shipment of handwoven blankets from the mail order house textile mills back east.

RUBBER-TIRED covered wagon on train. The inside of that wagon probably had an ice box, a butane stove, pull drapes on the picture windows and maybe, the bar. Instead of a guitar strumming "On the Lone Prairie-ayee" there was probably a Hi-Fi giving out with Satchmo.

The arrival here was delayed Abbey wrote, because the outfit had to stop in India for shoes for the horses. Maybe loafer-type sneakers yet.

The old order changeth. No cloddy-clop, no grinding iron tires, no Yaquies yakking. Oh, well, there's still Lawrence Welk — and "Red River Valley."

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I totally disagree on one subject and want you to settle it. When I punish our three-year-old child (usually by a spanking) I leave him for 10 to 30 minutes to ponder what he has done wrong. Then when he comes to me and tells me he is sorry, I forgive him and assure him that I love him. My husband will spank the child and, while he is still crying from the punishment, he'll pick him up and kiss him and comfort him. He believes that the spanking is the punishment, and it is necessary to assure the child immediately afterwards that he is loved regardless of what he has done. I think this does any good done by the punishment. We'd like your opinion. —ONE AGAINST ONE

DEAR ONE: To kiss and comfort a child who is crying as a result of punishment gives the child the impression that perhaps you were wrong in punishing him, and are seeking "his" forgiveness.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter in your column from a mother who was "disgusted" because her daughter received a corsage made of dog biscuits! Abby, didn't you know that when a girl reaches her 12th birthday she gets a lollipop corsage? On her 13th she gets a bubble gum corsage. On her 14th it's dog biscuits. For her 15th it's life savers, and on her 16th it's sugar cubes. —KATHIE

DEAR KATHIE: I must be the original "cube" because this is all news to me. Thanks for putting me wise. What's 17th, 18th and 19th?

DEAR ABBY: The young man who wondered about having his bread buttered by his lady friend might try this:

For 25 years I have been buttering bread for my husband. When I pass the buttered bread to him he kisses my finger-tips. He claims this is the most exciting part of the meal. I agree.

Love Those Angels Heavenly Gates Open For Angels

By BOB ABBEY

Could be it's sheer fantasy, like something out of Disneyland, but can you let yourself imagine and honestly picture an all-Los Angeles World Series this coming October in Chavez Ravine?

If you were able to last April 2, when the Angels beat their cross-town rivals the Dodgers 6-5 in a thriller here at the Polo Grounds, the Angels spring training headquarters, and were willing to put a few hard-earned dollars where your imagination was, you'd be looking at the world through rose-colored glasses right now and sitting pretty.

Blurry Eyes

First you would be rubbing your hands with the Dodgers atop of the National Loop, and you would also be rubbing your eyes at the sight of these amazing "Rigneyettes" with their shiny "halos" on top of the ladder in the American League.

Going into Friday night's game against the Boston Red Sox, the ragamuffin Angels are one-half a game in front of the World Champion New York Yankees and on the heels of finishing one of their toughest road jaunts of the entire season with a twin win over the Senators before winging back to Los Angeles last night to open a 19-game home stand at Chavez Ravine.

Some baseball experts will swear up and down he's using mirrors. Others will say a crystal ball, and then a few will maintain his pockets are bulging with lucky rabbits feet.

But the many who really know Bill Rigney, skipper and field boss of the Los Angeles Angels, only turn up the corners of their mouth in a smile and say, "I told you so. I'm not the least surprised."

June 8, 1960 Rigney was a man, not without a country, but a man without a major league baseball team. One day prior to that date, he was field manager of the San Francisco Giants, and according to the experts and Las Vegas bookmakers along with owner Horace Stoneham, the Giants just couldn't lose the pennant.

Gets Walking Papers

Rigney received his walking papers when the ball club was in third place in the NL race and never did climb higher even with a new skipper.

Rig returned to his home in Walnut Creek a disappointed and quite stunned man. What exactly was in store for the serious minded gent, who is today regarded as one of baseball's greatest managers as he directs the Angels in their sophomore year, was anyone's guess.

Angel General Manager Fred Haney had been given the heave-ho from the Milwaukee Braves, and through the combined efforts of Gene Autry, the famous cowboy movie actor; Robert Reynolds, former All-American football player from Stanford; and Haney, Los Angeles was awarded a franchise and green-light to field a baseball team in the American League at the start of the 1961 season. This was December 6, 1960.

Pick Rigney

Rigney was no stranger to Haney, for they had pitted their wits against one another many times on the diamond, and with his recommendation to the Angel board members, Rig was given the opportunity to join the organization and be a part of a great working team. An organization that commenced as an infant, in less than two years has popped open more baseball fans eyes with their unbelievable 1962 performances than ever dreamed.

Rig's 1961 Angels won 70 and dropped 91 games last season. They barely were nosed out of seventh place in the last game of the season when they lost a heartbreaker to the Minnesota Twins. They did finish nine games ahead of the Washington Senators and the Kansas City Athletics.

In 1961 the L.A. Angels won only 24 games on the road and 36 in Wrigley Field—their home park last season. In Wednesday's doubleheader with the Senators, the boys with the shining "halos" on top took both ends which was their 27th road win of the '62 season.

In First Place

It appears to us that Rigney has a band of 25 Angels that love to play baseball—and play to win. He has youth, experience and several players that other ball clubs have thrown aside and thought were ready to commence drawing their baseball retirement pay.

But Rigney and his staff of coaches, Marv Grissom, Del Rice, Rocky Bridges and Jack Paepke, have taken a ball club consisting of fellows with ability, experience, ambition and the burning desire of wanting to play major league ball—and have latched on to the winning combination.

Manager Of The Year

If the Angels finish out the season resting No. 3 on the ladder-or-higher, you can bet your mother-in-law Rig'll be in the running for the "manager of the year" award in the American League.

So a fourth of July salute—24 hours late—to Skipper Bill, those heavenly Angel ball players and the top brass of the organization that put together out of a grab bag only 22 months ago a major league ball club who on July 5, 1962 are taking a well deserved day of rest in heaven and leading the AL loop.

Any Angel baseball fan thinking of ordering world series tickets had better jump on the bandwagon now—for the latest information available is that Hy Finerman, skipper of the Palm Springs "Halos," has already pitched a tent at the ticket office in Chavez Ravine awaiting the sale of Angel world series ducats.

Rig Brings 'Halos' Home in First Place

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Elated Leon Wagner summed it up for manager Bill Rigney and all the rest of the first-place Los Angeles Angels.

"We may not win the pennant," Wagner said, "but we sure are having a lot of fun."

The Angels were having their innings in the locker room after Wednesday's doubleheader sweep of the Washington Senators had placed them in the dizzy climate of first place. A year ago on this date they were in ninth place, where Angels are supposed to tread, 19 games behind the Detroit Tigers.

The Angels won the opener, 4-2, and then, buoyed by the news that the Kansas City Athletics had jolted the Yankees out of first, Los Angeles went out and took the second, 4-1.

Lee Thomas' 11th homer of the season and some effective relief pitching by baby-faced Dean Chance sparked the Angels in the opener. Then Wagner, doing a bit more than just having fun, hit his 24th of the season in the nightcap.

Felix Torres' homer made it 4-0 for Los Angeles in the second game and when the Senators squirmed around a bit, Art Fowler was sent in to stop the uprising and save the win.

Now the rest of the American League clubs were looking up at them and the Angels were enjoying the thought of it all.

Little Albie Pearson, the major leagues' smallest player at just under five and one-half feet, sat in front of his locker biting a ham sandwich as big as his head. "Hot dog!" he said. "First place. We're too fabulous to believe."

D.H.S. SOFTBALL TILT

Fireballs Slap Lid On Screwballs, 9-1

The Desert Hot Springs Fireballs, led by Joe Poist, bombarded the Desert Hot Springs Screwballs last night at the Eighth Street Community ball park as they scored a 9-1 victory.

The game was off to a great start when Ted Spinney second man up for the Fireballs belted a home run with one man on.

After the first homer, the Fireballs took over until the last inning, when the Screwballs attempted to make a comeback, and Gary Foster hit the only home run for the losing team.

Age was no handicap, because the Fireballs showed the younger set that even though they were, in some cases, three times older than their opponents, it was experience that counted.

Angel Fans Welcome Heroes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The surprising Los Angeles Angels received a surprise of their own early today when an estimated 1,500 to 2,000 fans jammed International Airport to give their American League leading-heroes a wee hours welcome home.

Civic leaders, an Elks band and Angel front-office brass were almost lost in the throng of autograph seekers that delayed the home team's departure from the new American Airlines pavilion by almost 90 minutes.

Angel board chairman Gene Autry summed up the enthusiasm for the second-division ranked team that managed to hit the mid-season top with a 4-2 and 4-1 sweep of a doubleheader with the Washington Senators Wednesday. "Barring injuries, who knows what might happen in this topsy-turvy race?" Autry said at the midnight celebration. "I know now we've got the best manager in baseball in Bill Rigney."

Dodgers Battle Giants

4 Game Crucial Series Played At Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tradition and history were on the side of the Dodgers today — not to mention some strong pitching and hitting — as Los Angeles opened a four-game series with the San Francisco Giants at Candlestick Park.

Tradition has it that the team in first place when evening falls on July 4 will win the pennant. Mathematicians caution optimists that the occurrence holds true only in 7 of 10 cases, but the Dodgers—who were in first when July 4 came to a close—would like to believe the odds are with them.

History has it that the Giants, no matter where they sit in the standings during the months when flowers bloom and birds sing, fade before the baseball season ends in the fall.

But history and tradition too easily are broken and the Dodgers, who Wednesday held onto their tight lead in the National League by sweeping a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies, 16-1 and 7-3, could be in second place Friday morning.

Don Drysdale (14-4), who wants to snap a tradition of never being a 20-game winner, was to pitch against San Francisco's Mike McCormick (4-2) in this afternoon's opener.

Sandy Koufax, making his first start since no-hitting the Mets, gave up five hits and only one run in breezing to the 16-1 victory in the opener. He won his 12th game of the season.

Meanwhile, back at the plate, the Dodgers were ramming 18 hits, with Maury Wills and Ron Fairly getting three each. The bang, however, came from big Frank Howard who got a bases-loaded double and a single for five runs batted in.

Howard also crashed another double and drove in two more runs in the second game as Joe Moeller, with relief from Ed Roebuck, got the victory. The league's leading RBI man, Tommy Davis, ran his total to 87 by powering in two in the first game and three more in the second for Los Angeles.
